Two Christian Chinese.

[From the S. F. Post, Jan. 24th.]
The atmosphere of crime that on ordinary occasions pervades the Police Court was modified for the better this morning by the presence of two of those individuals who have emerged from the gloom of superstition and pagan beliefs in which they were shrouded in their oriental homes, and, having had their eyes opened to the glorious truths of the Bible, are following along in the footsteps of the Savior. In other words they are Christian Chinamen. Rev. Mr. Paul said they were—that they had seen the error of their ways and had been converted—and all the prisoners in the dock and all the ex-criminals in the spectators' seats looked at them with holy admiration, almost expecting to see a halo of light around their heads. They were the complaining witnesses; where the sunlight glances upward from the mud flats of Mission bay their little Christian wash-house stands, and Chinese editions of Watts' hymns daily torture the slumberous air as they labor at their purifying work. According to their story an unconverted brother, one Ah Chuck, chuck full of wickedness, had intruded himself on their peaceful fold, and attempted to carry off some things. They had him arrested on a charge of housebreaking in the daytime, and carrying burglars tools, and petty larceny, and other charges, to induce him to repent and see the error of his ways. Then the imp of Belial, Ah Chuck, told his story. He and the two amateur male angels had been gambling together in a Dupont street house where they often went. One of the saintly duet had "got broke," and borrowed numerous trade dollars from him, Ah Chuck. He lost this and borrowed more until Chuck, confiding in his Christian honesty, had loaned him quite a sum. A day or two after he tried to collect it, but was refused with the information that it was wrong to gamble and the advice to go and peruse the Chinese New Testament. He went for the money repeatedly, but got only curses and refusals, until when he attempted to repay himself with anything he could lay his hands on, he was arrested. His story was supported by witnesses, better than was the other side; and in spite of the unadulterated holiness of the complainants the court was compelled to continue the case to find out whether they were liars and swindlers.

DEATH OF LUCILLE WESTERN.—Miss Western's death resulted from pneumonia, brought on by a cold she contracted while playing at the Walnut Street Theatre, in Philadelphia. She took to her bed on Wednesday, from which she never rose again. All day Thursday she grew worse, and at a few minutes before 7 in the evening while she was lying on a sofa, so that her bed might be remade, she called to her agent, A. G. Cambridge, and said in an absent-minded manner: "It is time to go to the theater." Miss Tiffany plays for you to-night, you know," replied Mr. Cambridge. "Oh, yes, I remember," she gasped; "I remember."

A few minutes later, being in bed, she called to the nurse who was with her, and said: "Where's Arthur?" Mr. Cambridge came up to her, and, clasping him around the neck, she looked full in his face and said: "Arthur, I am going to die. You have been very good to me. But I am going to rest at last." So saying, she fell back dead. "Poor girl," said Mr. Cambridge, yesterday with tears running down his cheeks. "She died like a little child. As good a woman as ever lived, and as kind-hearted as she could be; a better never walked the boards."

NOTHING LIKE SCIENCE.—One day last Summer an old farmer and his wife were in a photograph gallery to have some pictures taken of the wife. Before proceeding to business the farmer took the artist aside and confidentially observed:

"The old lady was bound to come and I couldn't prevent, but now I want you to do me a favor. She's got ears like a cow, and the biggest mouth I ever saw on a woman. Her picture would be a laughing stock for the children and I know she'd be sorry when too late. Tell her that she'd take the best of old weather and then (he fixed the camera).

The artist performed his errand and the woman went away both disappointed and pleased. The other day when old zero was just howling himself hoarse, the same pair returned to the gallery, and the farmer seated his wife as far from the stove as possible, and ordered her to be "taken" at once. As the artist hastened to obey, the farmer cornered him and whispered: "Magnificent and unbounded success. Mouth and ears reduced one-half in size by the cold! Heat expands—cold contracts—Go ahead afore she thaws out! Hooray for science and me!"—Detroit Free Press.

"Carson," shouted the brakeman, as a V. & T. train slowed up at that station. "Five years for refreshments," yelled a passenger with short hair and bracelets, as he rose to leave the car in charge of a deputy sheriff.

New Bills.

Hon. J. S. Shoemaker, Assemblyman from Washoe, has been looking after the interest of small school districts, and has introduced an amendment to section seventeen of the general act, so as to afford relief to the smaller districts. This is effected by regulating the manner of apportionment slightly in favor of these districts, and providing against expense where there are no funds. This seems to us a wise measure, and one which should meet with approval. A common school education is now regarded as a right, and should be guaranteed in all ways possible to those who seek it.

Mr. Stone has conceived the idea of inducing traveling agents or drummers to contribute to the general funds of counties, by paying a license of $20 per month. This, it seems will be a difficult law to enforce, but we see no reason why these men should not pay license as well as merchants now doing business in our State. We have always held that non-residents who do business in this State, and for that matter, own it, should pay for their privileges and we should oppose the selling or representation for sale, of property, without subjecting the same to taxation.

Rockhill's bill to purchase 300 copies of Powell's "Land of Silver," has proven him a fit subject for immortality, and he is, no doubt, proud of it. Since the bill was introduced Josh Billings has telegraphed an offer of 300 copies of his Natural History, and Geo. Francis Train wants relief. Billings says his work is more "acknowledged" and "trustworthy," while Train says he should be set at large to encourage the general dissemination of knowledge. These two claims together with Powell's should be made a special order for the third house on the first Monday after adjournment.

The bill for the election of Warden by both houses has passed the Assembly. The original bill was amended by the Committee, giving the Warden the appointment of his deputy, and providing that the Commissioners shall name his successor, in case of the Warden's death or resignation.

The Committees appointed to inspect the Prison walls and grounds near Reno, probably reported to-day, and a bill will be introduced to secure a completion of the work. The fair, unbiased judgment of legislators is all that is needed to decide the matter in the interests of our State.

Miguel's hoodlum bill also came up to-day, and although all sections of the State realize the necessity for a House of Refuge, we do not imagine his attempt to hoodwink the Assembly and locate it at Reno, will succeed. Walls costing $100,000 are rather too expensive as a surrounding for a building which should only cost $25,000, and we fear that the Speaker has shown a weak hand, and is liable to a set back.

Keep the Peace.

Reno is now filled to overflowing with a certain disorderly, worthless class, who are merely feeding on the industry of others. Many of these are driven to us by stern necessity, while others come for purposes best known to themselves, and which are not conducive to the best interests of our community. The times are too hard for workingmen to support this indolent and unprincipled class, and some of them have begun to help themselves. Now, we have a few words to say to these men in their own interests. The villainous assault upon Mr. Wickes, the other night, together with other less criminal pranks of late occurrence, have put our citizens on their guard against this class, and measures will be taken to provide for their comfort.

We would not drive any honest poor man out into the storm, but we advise the thieves who are at present operating among us to mend their ways or seek other fields in which to operate, lest they come to grief without warning or preparation. We are making no idle threats, but know whereof we speak in telling these men of their risks and mistakes. The peace of this community has been assailed repeatedly of late, and the citizens have resolved that such things must no longer be endured. Questionable characters will bear in mind that in the absence of conviction, suspicion often serves instead, and they will consult their own welfare by heeding our suggestions and keeping the peace.

Letter From Pyramid.

PYRAMID CITY, Jan. 20th, 1877.
EDITOR GAZETTE:—How Pyramid flourishes during the late storm may be of some interest to your readers, and I would also give expression of the camp's opinion of Everett's joint memorial to Congress, praying that august body to restrict the area of Pyramid Reservation.

The weather is very cold and we have from two to three and a half feet of snow. There is also no tobacco in camp, and this you may know is rather tough on a fellow accustomed for years to use the weed. The sheep about here do raise the most pitiable bleats that can be imagined. If it was not for Walker's good whiskey his store would be filled with lambs. Pedro, poker and seven up come in for a full share of the evenings amusements. Everything in camp is progressing finely notwithstanding the amount of snow and the cold weather. The boys are full of life and have most explicit faith in the mines yielding handsome returns.

JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 10.

I am aware that the agent and employees of the Pyramid Reserve are opposed to the bill. One may expect this, because with restricted Reserve funds the employees cannot enjoy former perquisites. There are few Indians on the Reserve and the limits prescribed in the bill are amply sufficient to supply all their wants. There are not 500 Indians on the Reserve at any one time, and the agents misrepresents the facts when he so states. We hold ourselves friends of the Indians, and they have more confidence in us than in their agents. Included within the bounds of the Reserve are mineral lands of great value to the white man but are of absolutely no value to Indians. It is highly important that these lands yielding no revenue to the Indian or Government should be thrown upon the market, bought and utilized by the white man with profit to himself and his Government. The Indian, if provided for as contemplated by the Government, would have comparatively as much for observance of his wants as he now has with the immense tract, most of which is now so little used by him. We all hope the bill will unanimously pass our Legislature and receive most favorable consideration by Congress.

Respectfully,
SUBSCRIBER.

How THE FRENCH DO IT.—The French butcher separates the bones from his steaks, and places them where they will do the most good. The housewife orders just enough for each person and no more, even to the coffee. If a chance visitor drops in, somebody quietly retires and the extra cup is provided, but nothing extra by carelessness of intention. When the pot has boiled, the handful of charcoal in the little range is extinguished, and waits for another time. No roaring cook-stoves and red hot covers all day long for no purpose but waste. The egg laid to-day costs a little more than the one laid last week. Values are nicely estimated, and the smallest surplus is carefully saved. A thousand little economies are practiced, and it is respectable to practice them. Cooking is an economical as well as sanitary and gustatory science. A French cook will make a franc go as far as an American housewife will make three, and how much further than the American Bridget nobody knows. We should probably be greatly astonished, could the computation be made, how much of the financial, recuperative power of France is owing to her soups and cheap foods; better living, after all, than the heavy bread and greasy failures of our culinary ignorance.

He was a red-headed boot-black, and had finished putting "a shine" on a No. 33 boot, hung to the end of a Cincinnati drummer's leg. He spit a pint of tobacco-juice into his blacking box, took off his coat, grabbed the brush, knelt down and shouted, "Change cars." The fellow put his foot upon the boy and held him there until he was so weak he couldn't speak, and then went off down an alley to wade in the mud with the boot that had the shine on it.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NEW STORE.—Yankee Dodge is again to the front. He is well aware of the hard times and knows that Reno wants goods sold at the lowest rates and for cash. Hence Dodge has opened a store next door to Polard's Hotel, on Commercial Row, where he will keep on hand a general variety of Yankee notions, such as Soap, Perfumery, Hosiery, Ladies and Gents Underwear, Towels, and Counterpanes, Buggy Robes, Hosiery Blankets, Whips, etc., etc. He has a well assorted stock of Goods which he will sell cheaper than anybody. Call and examine them.

A LITTLE COFFIN.—We heard to-day that a beautiful little coffin, was brought to town, in which the owner took much pride. It belongs to Wallace Coffin, and weighs only ten pounds. May she live long, and be to her parent Coffins "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

A six months infant disturbed and irritated an audience at a Washington theatre an entire evening, and its parent at the close added the appreciative consolation, that "Hamlet" was a h—ll of a play to charge fifty cents for."

The English military authorities at Aldershot are testing the American horse-shoe to prevent the horse over-reaching itself.

The Turkish my, it is reported, is greatly augmented by constant arrivals of Polish and Hungarian volunteers.

ALL who were indebted to the Reno Lumber Co., previous to Jan. 1st, 1877, are hereby notified to call and settle their accounts on or before February 1st, 1877. All accounts not settled at that date will be otherwise collected. [1-34tf] RENO LUMBER CO.

PRICES REDUCED.—Mr. P. Schwartz who has a barber shop at the International Hotel, has made a reduction of 100 per cent. on the old prices of barber work. He now only charges 25 cents each, for hair cutting, shaving and shampooing. Dyeing, etc., same price as before. Give him a call and keep the prices down. 1-25tf

SHAVING PARLORS.—Messrs. Morris & Frankfield take this method of announcing to their friends and the public in general, that they have opened a new and elegant hair dressing room, on Virginia street, containing Budden's photograph gallery. Everything is new, neat and clean, including the very latest improved Rochester Barber Chairs, the only ones to be found in Reno. Everything necessary to be had to insure the comfort and pleasure of customers have been provided. Shaving, Hair Cutting, Shampooing and Dyeing done in a practical and workmanlike manner. All kinds of Hair Tonics and Hair Restoratives always on hand. Ladies and children's hair cutting and shampooing a specialty. MARK H. MORRIS. H. H. FRANKFIELD. 1-15tf

STILL ON TOP.—Hurrah for the Centennial. Nick wants the public to know that all danger has been removed. That no man who shaves at the Centennial need fear for his throat. No danger of having your hair poorly cut or losing a piece of your cheek at this shop, on account of a poor light; and why? Yes, why? Well, Nick, in order to keep ahead and have all modern improvements, has introduced gas into his shop and you would hardly know the place. Step around gent, opposite Norton's butcher shop, and get shaved, and come early, for there are always two crowds around. One comes to get shaved and the other to admire the shop by gaslight. 12-14tf

SILVER-PLATED WARE.—S. N. Davidson announces that he will sell during the Holidays quadruple silver-plated Napkin Rings, of Rogers' make, with initials engraved thereon, for 25 cents, largest size, 50 cents. Silver thimbles with initials engraved, 25 cents, and all other goods in proportion.

For or Against Incorporation

ALSO FOR

THE ELECTION OF TRUSTEES.

AN informal election by the taxpayers residing within the proposed corporate limits of Reno, for the purposes above mentioned, will be held on Thursday, February 1st, 1877.

At the various polling places hereafter named. Mr. J. M. Flannigan has been employed to prepare a list from the Assessment Roll, of the taxpayers residing within the town limits, and will furnish a list of such taxpayers of each ward to each committee. Those who have become taxpayers since the completion of the last assessment roll, will report to Mr. Flannigan, at Judge Gilson's office, their names, place of residence, and a description of property subject to taxation. Only those who pay taxes on real and personal property will be permitted to vote at this election.

Tickets on which are written or printed the words "Incorporation—Yes," or "Incorporation—No," will be counted for or against incorporation by the committees. The person or persons having the highest number of votes, if a citizen and a taxpayer, and most direct way, the will of the majority on the subject of incorporation. It also gives TAXPAYERS the fairest opportunity of choosing for themselves the kind of men they prefer to administer the affairs of Town Government.

The several Election Committees will immediately, or as soon as practicable after counting the votes, return the tally list, duly certified, to the County Clerk who, with the County Assessor and Recorder, will act as a Committee to canvass and declare the result to the Board of Trade and to the public.

In all other respects the election will be conducted as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the statutes concerning elections.

Taxpayers will bear in mind that this is an informal election and is recommended only for the purpose of obtaining, in the fairest and most direct way, the will of the majority on the subject of incorporation. It also gives TAXPAYERS the fairest opportunity of choosing for themselves the kind of men they prefer to administer the affairs of Town Government.

ELECTION NOTICE.—We publish elsewhere a notice to taxpayers, asking their decision upon the incorporation matter, at an election to be held February 1st, 1877. This method is adopted merely to obtain the opinion of taxpayers upon the question, and it is certainly the duty of all to express themselves upon the day named. If a majority of the votes of property taxpayers is found to favor incorporation, the measure will be urged; if a majority of such property taxpayers oppose it, the bill will be abandoned. Everybody should turn out and settle the matter wisely at home, for a failure to appear may necessitate a contest before the Legislature, and that we regard as an unnecessary expense. Let us vote for or against the measure and settle it once for all. Read the notice.

ESTRAYS.—The present fall of snow has rendered it exceedingly difficult for stray stock to get a living, and it behooves owners to look out for their welfare. There are four head of stray horses between Cox's ranch and Verdi, three bay mares and one sorrel. Two have small bells on their necks and one has a headstall on. The animals are snowed in and will perish unless cared for. About the Bull ranches the country is full of estrays, and the snow is between three and four feet deep. There are as many as 150 head of cattle and horses between Long Valley and Verdi, and the snow is too deep to permit of their getting a living. Persons who have lost stock of any kind might do well to visit these unfortunates. At any rate they should be saved from starvation.

A VAG.—Last night a heavy fog came up about 10 o'clock and covered the whole valley, and almost eliminating the light of the moon. He was clinging affectionately to an awning post gazing with a puzzled air at the surroundings. "Yes, I've bin (hic) purty full for a day's two back. Will (hic) hev to deal with some other corn juice shop, sure pop. Here last nite I wuz in Reno where I could spar a drink wunst in a while, but I've been shanghaied—that's what's the matter—and now' accordin' to the thickness of this fog, I must be in Frisco. Hevin pertect me; the've got one of them vag laws here and I'm (hic) gone in."

NEW STORE.—B. S. Coggeshall & Co. have opened their new store on Second street with a large stock of choice family groceries. They are experienced business men, and will endeavor by accommodating our people to obtain their share of the trade. A full line of groceries will always be found on hand, and the stock will be of the finest quality.

Jottings.

Two feet and a half of snow in Verdi.
Seven feet and eleven inches at Dog Valley.
Four feet between Verdi and Long Valley.

"Ah!" said a Doctor yesterday as he slipped upon the ice, "this is what I like, this means broken arms, and—business."

J. P. Foulkes and Wm. Merrill of Verdi are in the metropolis.

Chas. Reed, the first Sheriff of Washoe county, was in town last night.

It is all the go just now for pedestrians to assume a sitting posture at the corner of Commercial Row and Virginia streets, a singular feature of the business is that you always hear some ignorant fellow laugh about that time. Some people have no manners anyhow.

Tom McManus, line repairer for the A. & P. Tel. Co., made a trip to Virginia yesterday on snow shoes for the purpose of repairing a break in one of the wires. He reports it pretty deep up that way, but says that Providence and an occasional glimpse of a pole or two enabled him to get through in about twelve hours.

A sleigh ride to the Summit is projected for next Monday.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A telegram from Verdi this morning informed us of the sudden death of J. K. Lovejoy, widely known as "Old Piute." His death occurred this morning at half past six, on his ranch near Verdi. Lovejoy, according to his custom, had risen at an early hour and was building a fire when he was taken with a violent fit of coughing, which ruptured a blood vessel and caused instant death. Deceased was at one time widely known throughout the State, and his sudden demise is an affliction to the entire community. Mr. Lovejoy was, we believe from Illinois, and followed for some years the profession of journalist. He claimed to be a son of that Lovejoy whose printing press was thrown into a river in Illinois, on account of his politics. Deceased was at times, during several years, connected with J. C. Lewis of this place, and was quite a genius, although very erratic and impulsive. His style was incisive and bitter, and he spared none whom he attacked. Lovejoy started "The Old Piute" in Washoe City some years since, and afterward issued a paper of the same name in Virginia. These were not long lived however, and the editor turned rancher and made his home near Verdi, where after a residence of several years, he died.

DISTRICT COURT.—A large number of persons were present at the Kelly trial to-day. The prosecution concluded the examination of all their witnesses, and this afternoon the defense began their testimony. Those who were subpoenaed and testified on the part of the State are W. Milliken, R. Clark, Wm. De Camp, W. C. T. Elliott, J. Richardson, O. Ring, E. Spencer, E. Williams, Pat. Keliher, Dr. Dawson, F. Dubois and J. Kinkead. The trial will consume this week and possibly one or two days of next week.

GRAND BALL.—According to announcement the Independent Champions of the Red Cross will give a grand ball at Reno Opera House on Wednesday evening next, January 31st. The most thorough preparations have been made for a royal good time, and the best of music secured. A glance at the names of the committee men in another column will predict good management, and close attention to the comfort of guests. The Champions are a worthy order and in pursuit of a worthy object. Help them.

A DARING THIEF.—Some scoundrel who had not much respect for Reno's majesty, stole a trunk from the sidewalk in front of Wintermuntel's hotel about ten o'clock yesterday morning. He would probably have waited until night, only he was afraid the trunk might not be there. Next?

RETURNED.—Mr. R. L. Caldwell, traveling agent for R. P. Chapin, nurseryman, of this place, has just returned from a visit to the Honey Laker. He reports dull times and bright hopes in that section.

SLEIGH RIDE UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

—Yesterday a Virginia City gentleman, bent on "creating a sensation in the sleigh business, arrayed himself regardless, borrowed a sleigh and a fast team and proceeded for the precious freight. Two young ladies find ample room on the back seat, and a single lady and one recently married share the narrow front seat with the gent from the metropolis. He is very polite however, and sits in a position less comfortable than accommodating to the ladies. Several individuals are nearly run over, when city gent suddenly takes a notion to walk and the horses run away. The ladies on the front seat perceive that the knight of the reins looks lonely and alight from the sleigh to keep him company. One, without much difficulty, assumes a sitting position in the snow, and the other stands obliquely up on her ear. She can't make a success of her snow tunnel and soon resumes the normal position of pedestrians. Young ladies on the back seat think it impolite to enjoy the ride without city gent and perform a somersault without serious injury to the snow. A half mile walk to dinner improved their appetite, and several hearty laughs obliterated all effects of their assault on the snow. The sleigh was captured, repaired, and a jolly sleigh ride enjoyed, all agreeing that it was a good joke on the snow.

Choice Tea, 90 cents per pound at Coggeshall & Co.'s new store.

A LITTLE "SHAKY."—A gentleman rushed up to us last night and inquired hurriedly which was the second house on Commercial Row. We referred him to Powell's "Land of Silver." He rushed up the street to the next corner and there inquired at a butcher shop for the second house on Commercial Row. The proprietor said he had been in the country twenty years and didn't know. He then struck one of the "b'hoys" and propounded the same question. "Aw, walk on," said he, "it's down the other way." And so they kept him going until his feet grew tender and he took the middle of the street. Before he ceased his tramp every policeman in town was following him in hopes that he might prove crazy, and the doctors all congregated with surgical instruments, ready to operate when he fell down and broke his leg. But no, he continued his race, and as we were going home an hour afterwards a shadowy form passed before us, and asked which was the second house, &c. What was he after?

Good Tea, 60 cents per pound, at Coggeshall & Co.'s new store.

A PLEASANT TIME.—The members and friends of the M. E. church assembled about forty in number at the parsonage last evening, and were highly pleased with the social entertainment given, in which all participated. These sociables are to be continued for the benefit of the church and social culture. The next is to be held one week from next Wednesday, at Mrs. Grover's. All are cordially invited. An executive committee was formed as follows: President, Mrs. Sessions; Vice-President, Miss Crocker; Secretary, Mrs. Hawcroft; Treasurer, Mrs. Uren.

LIFE OF CUSTER.—Chas. Williams is in town and will solicit subscriptions for the "Life of General Custer." The work is an interesting volume, edited by Captain Frederick Whittaker and has a historical value added to its other merits. Those who have admired the gallant cavalryman and deplored his untimely death will be afforded a chance to review the varied and exciting incidents of his life. A portion of the proceeds accruing from the sale of the work will go to the bereaved wife and parents of the dead hero.

The Standard of Mohammed.

A Madras Mussulman paper gives its readers the following information respecting the "Prophet's Standard," which, it says, was enshrined among other relics of the founder of Islam in Constantinople, and has been dispatched to the scene of war, in order that the valor of the Turkish troops may be stimulated through their religious feelings: "An English author, Mr. Thornton, has published in his book on Turkey, copious details regarding this standard, which is called 'Sunjak-i-Shuruf' by the Turks, who ascribe a mysterious efficacy to it, holding it in the highest veneration. Non-Mussulmans are forbidden to gaze on it on pain of death, and it was this threat which deterred Mr. Thornton from casting his eyes on it when the standard was being paraded in the streets of Constantinople after it had witnessed a repulse of the Russians by the Turks during the Crimean war. When the Turks march to war with the Sultan himself or his Vizier at the head, the standard is displayed, and on catching a glimpse of it every Moslem recites his prayers while lending a hand in carrying it. A splendid silk tent is erected, in front of which the standard is raised, guarded by forty chiefs of the Empire and four bodies of infantry. Another writer, describing the standard, says that it is made of four layers of silk; the top-most of which is green, those below being composed of cloth embroidered with gold. Its entire length is twelve feet, and from it is suspended the figure of a human hand, which clasps a copy of the Koran, transcribed by the Caliph Osman. In times of peace the banner of the Prophet is kept in a chamber appropriated to the purpose along with the clothes, teeth, the venerable locks, the stirrups and the bow of the Prophet."

LICENSING BEGGARS.—It is proposed in San Francisco to compel all beggars to take out a license, for which they will have to pay a tax of fifteen dollars quarterly. There are in the neighborhood of two hundred professional beggars in that city, who pursue begging as a calling and derive support from it, just as mechanics follow their trades and earn their living thereby. It is claimed that a license tax will drive the professional beggars out of the city. It is more than likely that the reverse will be the effect; that the class of professional beggars who are vagrants under the law, and whose greatest anxiety is to dodge the police and avoid detection while begging, will increase and overrun the city as they do in certain European cities where they are licensed.—Oakland Tribune.
